CITY ANNOUNCES WATER RECLAMATION FACILITY INFORMATION AND ENGAGEMENT SESSIONS

Morro Bay, CA – The City of Morro Bay invites residents to attend two public information sessions about upcoming Water Reclamation Facility (WRF) activities. The public is invited and encouraged to attend.

- Special City Council Session: WRF Update
5:00 p.m., Wednesday, June 13, Veteran’s Memorial Building, 209 Surf Street
 - City Staff will present a program status update, including information on the design-build selection process, critical path items, budget, and the Proposition 218 process.
- Public Open House: “Addressing Morro Bay’s Wastewater and Water Challenges”
1:30-4:30 p.m., Saturday, June 23, Morro Bay Community Center, 1001 Kennedy Way
 - Following a brief presentation at 2 p.m., residents can get their questions answered, and then speak directly to technical experts at information stations. This is a workshop style format, not a public hearing or City Council meeting.

Unable to attend?

Email questions to ecasares@morrobayca.gov.

A video recording will be posted to www.morrobayca.gov following the Special City Council Session.

Additional WRF Information - Citizen Advisory Groups

Given the complexity of the WRF program and the desire to enhance civic engagement, the City established two citizen advisory groups, the WRF Citizens Advisory Committee and the Blue Ribbon Commission.

“Along with our professional staff and experts, the volunteer citizen advisors provide a critically important viewpoint and source of input to the Council,” stated Scott Collins, City Manager.

Recent advisory group activities include reviewing proposals for the WRF program design-build process and discussing potential rate increase structures.

The meeting dates are listed on the City’s website, and are open to the public.
